

I am From
By Lukas

I am from waking up every day and hoping my dad made me a special breakfast
(like our doughnut Sundays!)

I am from walking up my dirt driveway every day that takes me home (And it's quite muddy on a rainy day!)

I am from watching my dad build every day and trying to build things myself.

I am from building humongous LEGO starship and dinosaur models (And my Mom loves my creations!)

I am from loving my mom and waiting till she comes home from her job.

I am from looking forward to playdates with all my friends because we have so much fun together. (And we even fight sometimes too!)

I am from a family tradition
I am from being myself.
